

Year 6 Autumn 1: spellings

Week 2 13th September	Week 3 20th September	Week 4 27th September	Week 5 4th October	Week 6 11th October	Week 7 18th October	Week 8 25th October
Spelling Rule ...cious	Spelling Rule ...tious	Spelling Rule ...cial	Spelling Rule ...tial	Spelling Rule Silent letters	Spelling Rule Homophones	Spelling Rule ..ant, ..ance and ..ancy
1 conscious	1 ambitious	1 social	1 potential	1 artistically	1 aisle	1 important
2 precious	2 cautious	2 special	2 essential	2 logically	2 isle	2 importance
3 unconscious	3 contentious	3 official	3 initial	3 musically	3 aloud	3 significant
4 suspicious	4 infectious	4 financial	4 substantial	4 romantically	4 allowed	4 significance
5 delicious	5 conscientious	5 commercial	5 residential	5 bomb	5 affect	5 assistant
6 vicious	6 nutritious	6 crucial	6 confidential	6 climb	6 effect	6 assistance
7 spacious	7 pretentious	7 antisocial	7 partial	7 thumb	7 alter	7 distant
8 gracious	8 fictitious	8 artificial	8 influential	8 lamb	8 altar	8 distance
9 subconscious	9 superstitious	9 superficial	9 differential	9 doubt	9 ascent	9 extravagant
10 ferocious	10 scrumptious	10 racial	10 spatial	10 subtle	10 assent	10 extravagance
Plus these Key Stage 2 words:	Plus these Key Stage 2 words:	Plus these Key Stage 2 words:	Plus these Key Stage 2 words:	Plus these Key Stage 2 words:	11 bridal	11 redundant
11 position	11 straight	11 interrupt	11 controversy	11 necessary	12 bridle	12 redundancy
12 notice	12 peculiar	12 although	12 awkward	12 aggressive	13 cereal	13 pregnant
13 weight	13 history	13 occasionally	13 parliament	13 available	14 serial	14 pregnancy
14 impossible	14 breath	14 desperate	14 possession	14 explanation	15 compliment	15 occupant
15 separate	15 breathe	15 disastrous	15 profession	15 definite	16 complement	16 occupancy
16 average	16 stomach	16 environment	16 recognise	16 relevant	17 descent	17 infant
17 bruise	17 cemetery	17 communicate	17 apparent	17 thorough	18 dissent	18 infancy
18 muscle	18 neighbour	18 according	18 correspond	18 system	19 desert	19 truant
19 temperature	19 lightning	19 accompany	19 physical	19 variety	20 dessert	20 truancy
20 shoulder	20 ancient	20 community	20 sacrifice	20 identity

Spellings in context:

Spelling Rule ...cious	Spelling Rule ...tious	Spelling Rule ...cial	Spelling Rule ...tial
The naughty child made a conscious decision to improve her attitude. An engagement ring held a precious diamond. Lying helpless, the unconscious casualty needed help. The policeman was suspicious of the intruder's alibi. That cake looks delicious. A vicious dog chased the innocent kitten. The boot of the car was spacious enough for a large family. The princess looked gracious as she moved across the ballroom. His subconscious was telling him not to do it! Growling, the ferocious dog protected its owner. The prisoner was put into position to await the executioner. I began to notice the sounds drifting up from the courtyard below. The weight of the chains stopped	A very ambitious politician may become Prime Minister. Always be cautious when trying something for the first time. A contentious issue was discussed in the houses of parliament. If a child is infectious, they should not attend school. The conscientious child worked hard on her homework. How nutritious is that snack? Having a pretentious attitude can sometimes cause problems. A fictitious character allows you to escape into your dreams. Not everyone is superstitious. Chocolate cake is scrumptious. The prisoner looked straight ahead. There was a peculiar noise moving closer and closer. The tower had a long history of high profile prisoners. She took a deep breath. It was difficult to breathe.	A party was held at the social club. Luckily, the bike was on special offer. The engagement became official once announced to the press. It does not make financial sense to spend that money. Sales increased following a successful commercial advert. It is crucial that you fill in the consent form. Antisocial behaviour is being stopped by the police. Playing on artificial grass can sometimes cause injury. There was only a superficial burn on the table. Sadly, a racial comment was shouted from the crowd. I tried to interrupt but the guard kept talking. Although I was afraid, I held my head high and walked steadily into the room. Occasionally I wonder if I could escape my fate yet I know that the	It was clear that the actor had huge potential. It is essential that you bring the correct clothes for the trip. Please initial this form. Substantial progress was made following her hard work. The residential street was popular with families. The confidential letters had to be shredded There was a partial eclipse of the sun yesterday. Footballers can be extremely influential to young children. There is a clear differential between petrol and diesel prices. The spatial arrangement is typical for a residential palace. A controversy was caused when I was arrested. It was an awkward situation. Parliament made the decision to pass the new law. My diary is now my only possession. His profession is a doctor.

me from moving too far from the chair. It was impossible to escape. I was imprisoned in a room separate from the other prisoners. The young man was of average height and build. The dark bruise covered half of his cheek. The muscles in his arms ached. As the sun set, the temperature in the cell began to fall. Over his shoulder, he carried a gleaming axe.	His stomach twisted in fear at the sight that lay before him. The cemetery was full of gravestones. His neighbour turned to look at him, eyes filled with fear. Lightning streaked across the dark sky as thunder rolled ominously. The ancient building was full of secrets.	chance of success id zero. The desperate cries of the bloodthirsty crowd filled my ears. The attempt was disastrous. I found myself in an unfamiliar environment. I could only communicate with the outside world through writing letters - I was not permitted visitors. According to my calculations, I have been in this prison for just over a week. The guard arrived to accompany me to the execution site. The community had all been very supportive of my efforts.	I did not recognise anyone in the crowd. I was apparent that the decision had already been made. I would often correspond with my children. The task I was asked to do was a very physical one. I had made a sacrifice in order to keep my family safe.
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Spelling Rule Silent letters	Spelling Rule Homophones	Spelling Rule ...ant, ...ance and ...ancy
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. He arranged the flowers in the vase artistically. 2. You must try to work out the answer to the riddle logically. 3. The young girl was musically gifted. 4. He asked her out on a date romantically. 5. A bomb was dropped by the fighter pilot during the Blitz. 6. The group set off to climb a mountain. 	In the supermarket I walked down the cereal aisle. The isle was surrounded by water. The boy read his amazing writing aloud. You are not allowed to run in the corridors. The weather may affect our plans. It may have an effect on our plans. We have had to alter the timetable this week as we are going on a trip.	It is important to learn your spellings. Never forget the importance of washing your hand It was a significant scientific discovery. The detective realised the significance of the clue. The man's assistant helped him to complete the task.

The builder was careful not to bang her thumb with a hammer.

The lamb bleated for its mother.

I doubt you will do well on your spelling test unless you practise!

The detective looked out for subtle hints to help him solve the crime.

It is necessary to ration the water as it is only brought once a day.

The crowd had become aggressive and I was frightened.

There were very few choices available to me.

The explanation for why I was arrested was confusing.

“No,” he said, his voice definite.

The information was not relevant to the situation.

I had a thorough search of the cell to see if I could find a way out.

There was a clear system for checking if someone was a witch.

A variety of tests were given to the accused.

I did not know the identity of the person who had accused me.

The priest stood at the altar in the Church.

The group began their ascent to the top of the mountain.

The idea was greeted with sounds of assent.

The bridal party made their way to the wedding reception.

The boy put a saddle and bridle on his horse.

The girl had a bowl of cereal for breakfast.

The serial killer was hunted by police.

The woman was paid a compliment on her idea.

Her scarf complemented her outfit.

The descent down a zipline was amazing!

There was dissent among the group about what we should do next.

The largest desert on the world is the Sahara.

What shall we have for dessert?

She required assistance to carry the large box to her car.

The boy gazed at the distant building.

We had to travel quite a distance for our holiday this year.

An extravagant gift was left on the doorstep.

The new car was an extravagance.

The man was made redundant by his company.

The redundancy money was helpful while she was looking for a new job.

The woman discovered that she was pregnant.

The royal princess announced her pregnancy.

The occupant of the seat was a tall, thin man.

The maximum occupancy of the room was 8 people.

The infant crawled towards the box of toys.

Even in his infancy he had been an artistic child.

The children played truant from school and went to the park instead.

Truancy was getting lower every year.